ARTISTIC CASSEROLES.

Made at the Pottery Works of Clement Massier.

This is the time of the year when all eyes are turned toward the Riviera. But how many among those who take of passage who through the hotels of Nice and Cannes ever take the trouble to make an excursion to Vallauris, the head center for the manufacture of these baked clay casseroles, known wherever the best traditions of the French cuisine are recognized?

The art pottery establishments of Clement Massier and his fellows at Golfe Juan and on the orange and olive tree covered hillside roundabout are as far as the seekers of souvenirs of the "Cote d'Azur" ever go in their quest. Massier is a great artist no doubt, though he might still have been a simple journeyman potter had he not years ago attracted the attention of Gerome, Cabanel, Puyssat, de Chavannes and the world of art at Paris, who prevailed upon him to devote his undivided talents to the making of these exquisite forms and colorings which have made his jars and vases and plates famous the world over.

Massier's work is to be found in the museums, but where one example is to be seen closely guarded in a glass case in a museum hundreds of the casseroles of Vallauris are to be found among the chef's pots and pans of neighboring hotels and restaurants.

Almost within sight of Massier's establishment on the tall stack of an industrial community of some 6,000 souls who here in the Vallée Aurea, the golden valley of the Romans, turn out each year countless thousands, perhaps millions, of these rough, shal-low pots in terre cuite, which are exported to the ends of the earth. At least half the population of Vallauris gains its daily bread in the potteries, whose chief productions are marmarites, poelons and casseroles, those faithful handiworks of the masters of cookery, the French chefs. To Barcelona, to Marseilles, to Genoa, to Naples, to Alexandria and to Trieste are shipped daily from the little seaport a few miles distant on the shore of the Golfe Juan shiplands of these rough made pottery cooking utensils and from thence are reshipped in great liners to all the ports of the seven seas.

Fifty establishments at least at Vallauris continue the old traditions, unaffected by the rise of prosperity and the art potters of the neighborhood, who produce more artistic forms out of the same plastic material.

CHAMPLAIN TERCENTENARY.

Brief Information Paragraphs Concerning the Coming Event.

Tercenary dates: Swanton, July 3; Vergennes, July 3; Burlington, week of July 4-10; Isle La Motte, July 9; presidential day at Burlington, Thursday, July 8.

Railway excursions will be run from all points to the center of celebration. The Indian pageants will be given at Burlington and Isle La Motte.

The foreign governments officially represented at the tercentenary will be Great Britain, France and Canada.

Chorus singing will be features at all the celebration points in Vermont. The religious observances on Sunday, July 4, not only at the places of Champlain interest, but throughout Vermont, promise to be unusually impressive.

A marathon race will be run in Burlington July 6. The money stake is $1,000 and John H. Hayes of world-wide fame, "Pat" White, the Irish runner, Black Hawk and Simpson, the Indians, and Caravel, the Cuban, are now in training for the Burlington race.

Everything about the celebration at Vergennes is free excepting the banquet and ball game.

The Right Honorable James Bryce, who will be on at Burlington on presidential day, has the reputation of being able to speak at any length on any subject at a moment's notice.

The Hon. Rodolph Lemieux, Canadian minister of posts and telegraph, who will speak at Swanton, Burlington and Isle La Motte, ranks as one of the brightest after dinner speakers in the dominion.

For presidential banquet tickets address W. J. Bigelow; for information concerning lodgings in Burlington, G. E. Allen; for grand stand seats, John J. Whalen; for automobile information, E. A. Brodie; all Burlington. DO IT NOW.

The police and emergency hospital service in Burlington will be equal to all demands.

A dirigible balloon will make daily ascensions during tercentenary week in Burlington, weather permitting.

The band everywhere will be the best procurable.

Cash prizes to a large amount will be given in the drill work of uniformed organizations on Fraternity day in Burlington, Wednesday, July 7.

One piece of the fireworks display for Burlington will cost $500.

All the prizes in the motor boat races of Tuesday, July 6, at Burlington will be of the highest quality, as examples of the silversmith's art—$1,000 worth in all.

The girls' drill team of Alpha camp, M. W. A., will be a feature of Wednesday's parade in Burlington.

The parade of historical floats at Swanton, Saturday, July 3, will not be excelled anywhere.

The Ferris exhibition shows to be in Burlington all tercentenary week have no less than ten baby lions, some less than two weeks old.

MAKE CONFESSION.

Charlan and Welcome Admit Highway Robbery.

Manchester, June 23.—William G. Welcome and John B. Charlan yesterday confessed to the Manchester police that they committed the highway robbery on the Londonderry turnpike Friday and obtained $150 from Lester Watts, a driver in the employ of Annis & Company.

Katie was held up at the point of a revolver and shot gun and after his money was taken he was led into the woods with his horse and both man and horse tied to a tree. Charlan and Welcome were arrested Sunday on suspicion, but the evidence was not conclusive until today.

They will be turned over to the Rockingham county officials, as their crime was committed in that county.

ABOUT THE STATE

Collector Charles H. Darling of the customs district of Vermont, with headquarters at Burlington, furnishes the following figures for the month of May: Collections, $31,555.81; merchandise exported, $643,146. The collections for May, 1908, were $42,231.78.

As a precaution to guard against a water famine the coming summer, the Rutland city water department is making a house to house canvass in order to put a stop to all leakage and waste. There is plenty of water in the reservoir at present, but the authorities are taking action early to avoid a repetition of last year's experience.

The new grand list for the town of Rockingham shows a small decrease from last year. The exact amount is $170,221, and is more than accounted for by the decrease in polls, there being 118 less this year than last. Mrs. Hetty H. R. Green is listed the same as last year, $12,000 on her house and $100,000 on personal estate. Edward H. R. Green, on personal estate, $100,000. Miss Sylvia Green paid on $5,000 each last year, but are not listed this year.

OLDEST U. V. M. GRADUATE.

Death in Onarga, Ill., of W. P. Pierson, in His 98th Year.

The Onarga, Ill., Leader of June 18 announces the death in that place on June 10 of William Pierson Pierson, who for some time has been regarded as the oldest living graduate of the university of Vermont. Mr. Pierson was born in Lefroy, N. Y., December 8, 1811, prepared for college in Hinesburg, Vt., working in the summer and going to school in fall and winter, doing chores for his board while in school. He entered the university of Vermont in 1833, and after six years of hard labor, two of which were spent in teaching, he graduated in 1839. After his graduation Mr. Pierson went to Kentucky, where he taught school and read law, practicing for seven years in Danville after his admission to the bar. He was subsequently a pioneer farmer in Iowa and later a merchant in Onarga, Ill., until he retired, in 1873, from active business. He was interested in education and in church affairs, and gave liberally to both. The Leader refers to him as a man of strictest integrity and uprightness in all his dealings with men.

OFFICERS TOOK SAFE.

Suspecting That It Contained Liquor, Rutland Was Interested.

Rutland, June 23.—Members of the sheriff and police departments made two raids Monday evening on search warrants, issued by State's Attorney Joseph C. Jones, visiting the place of E. J. Walsh on Center street, which is conducted by Arthur Bacon. At the Walsh place, nothing was found but the officers carried away a heavy safe, thinking it might contain wet goods. At Bacon's they found only "two per cent" beer, some of which they took for analysis.

The searching party consisted of Deputy Sheriffs Pascal Ricci of Rutland and A. A. Leonard of Wallingford, Chief of Police T. C. Elworth and Officers Lovette, Conlin and Worthen. They first visited Dewdrop Inn and a big crowd of people watched them search in every nook and cranny for contraband goods. Next they went to the Walsh place, and the crowd seemed greatly amused when, after searching in vain for liquor, the officers rolled the safe onto one of the baggage trucks from The Barwell and pushed it to the city hall.

RUTLAND'S GRAND LIST.

Shows a Decrease, Due to Reduction of Bank Stock.

Rutland, June 23.—The board of assessors yesterday completed their work of making up the grand list for this city. The grand list of 1909 is $8,306,293, which is $1,647,396 less than last year. The falling off is due to the reduction of the capital stock of the Baxter National bank from $300,000 to $200,000 and of the State Trust company from $100,000 to $25,000. This reduces the amount of taxable personal property. The total amount of taxable personal property is $7,994,420, including $8,201,080 in real estate and $1,793,340 in personal property. This is a decrease in taxable property in comparison with last year of $180,736. The real estate shows a gain of $33,225, but there is a falling off in personal property of $214,061. The number of taxable polls this year is 3,266, a gain of 80 over 1908.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

James H. Emerson of Orange Files in Bankruptcy.

Rutland, June 23.—Two bankruptcy cases were filed yesterday in the office in this city of F. S. Platt, clerk of the United States court. Richard Earle Wright of West Rutland, a merchant, has liabilities of $565.75 and his assets $100, of which $125 is exempt. James H. Eastman of Orange, also a merchant, claims liabilities of $4,910.25, of which $125 is exempt.
